The crest at Shreveport is predicted to approach the 23 foot flood stage about Sunday, with a crest of 32-34 feet at Alexandria, 120 miles southeast, in seven to nine days. Flood stage at Alexandria is 32 feet.

Three tributaries of the Red, the Cypress, Little and Sulphur Rivers are near flood stage and pouring water into the Red.

The mark of the Southwest is on us this week-end — that strange mixture of 10-gallon hats and modern industry.

For Hope will hold an Appreciation day Saturday in behalf of our manufacturing plants, and on Sunday we'll be host city for the first convention of Roundup clubs of southwest Arkansas.

Main feature of Appreciation day will be an exhibit of all local industrial products in the Brundidge building, 214 East Second street, sponsored by Hope Chamber of Commerce. Twenty-five manufacturing concerns are exhibitors, and the hall will be open from 9 a. m. Saturday until 8 p. m. it is free.

Hope isn't rated primarily an industrial city, but no town reaches a population of 8,605 without substantial help from its manufacturing concerns. Our figures give emphasis to that fact. Local industry employs 1,500 persons, pays annual wages of 2½ million dollars, and distributes additional hundreds of thousands of dollars every year for timber and other raw material in this and neighboring counties.

The Roundup clubs of the southwestern counties will open their convention at 1 p. m. Sunday in the Coliseum at Fair park. Registrations will begin at 9 a. m., and there will be a special church service at the Coliseum between the close of downtown church services at noon and the 1 p. m. convention opening hour, with the local Roundup club playing host at a barbecue dinner.

These two events typify the main enterprises of the New South and Southwest — cattle and manufacturing — and it's a good thing they are taking time out this week-end to honor them.

The average person is pretty obstinate about there being only one point of view where snakes are concerned, and therefore he reads with morbid fascination the debate going on between Carnival Snake — Owner Brown Harn and Little Rock Zoo Director Raymond Gray.

It appears that Mr. Harn was exhibiting at the little town of Mulberry, near Fort Smith, one Indian python 22 feet long — but yesterday his overgrown caterpillar escaped. Which leaves the citizens of Mulberry in a dire dilemma. They can neither hunt a hole nor climb a tree — pythons are experts in negotiating both.

Mr. Harn attempts to pacify the populace by saying that pythons are non-poisonous, and while it is true they kill by crushing prey in their muscular coils the average python is dangerous only to birds and animals the size of a dog. Mr. Harn wants his pet back alive.

Little Rock Zoo Director Gray lifted his eyebrows at what the enthusiastic snake-owner said about the habits of pythons. Retorted Gray: Well-fed captive pythons are usually sociable — but should they get hungry they are capable of strangling a man or even a cow.

Now we are getting somewhere. The debate narrows down to a single point — just how hungry can a python get? Or —

What time is it?

If they don't find it pretty soon, and I met up with the critter, I think I'll write my congressman that this year for a change his constituents will run.

Red to Hit 26 Feet at Fulton

New Orleans, April 24 (AP) — The rising Red and Sabine rivers are expected to go above flood stage within the next few days but the U. S. Corps of engineers predicted levees would hold the water unless the flood crests go higher than expected.

Downpours of 4 to seven inches East Texas and Southern Arkansas have filled the rivers.

B. P. Hughes, Meteorologist of the Shreveport Weather Bureau, said the Red is expected to crest near the 25-foot flood stage late Friday at Index, Ark., and should hit 26 feet, one foot above the flood stage, Saturday at Fulton, Ark.

The crest at Shreveport is predicted to approach the 23 foot flood stage about Sunday, with a crest of 32-34 feet at Alexandria, 120 miles southeast, in seven to nine days. Flood stage at Alexandria is 32 feet.

Spring Hill Honor Students Are Announced

The honor graduates of Spring Hill High School for the 1951-52 term are:

Valedictorian, Bobby Joe Wright, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Wright and Salutatorian, Lynette Lee, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eldredge Lee. It was announced today by Carlton R. Hasley, Principal.

Another meeting of the parties involved was scheduled today.

The FPC yesterday approved rates and charges for power to be purchased from government-owned hydroelectric dams, but insisted that its approval be limited to five years. Reynolds Metals Company, which proposed to build the plant near Arkadelphia, promptly rejected the commission's order as "wholly unacceptable."

A contract setting forth rates to be paid for federal power was agreed to by Reynolds, the Arkansas Power and Light Company and the Southwestern Power Administration, an Interior Department agency. Until last night, however, FPC had withheld approval of the rates as too low.

The commission said yesterday in its order approving the rates that nothing in the order should be construed as confirming or approving rates proposed after five years.

Walter Rice, vice president of Reynolds, commented: "This would be wholly unacceptable to us. It would be impossible to build a 35-million-dollar plant on a 5-year contract. It must be a 30-year contract."

The contract calls for AP & L to supply power for the Reynolds plant A P & L would purchase some of this power from government dams through the SPA.

Consequently, Mr. Truman said, there was no march on Trieste.

On the ultimatum to Russia, Mr. Truman asked that his staff check the specific dates later, but it was his impression that the message to Stalin — according to him undisclosed until today — was sent in 1945.

The President said he informed Stalin that unless he got out of Iran the United States would put some people in there. The Russians got out.

He said he was able to deliver such an ultimatum to the Russians because the United States at that time had a mobilized army and navy, which it does not have at this time.

Reporters pointed out that the word "ultimatum" is a precise diplomatic term which usually attacks world-wide attention when it is used in international affairs. The President said that was what he sent. An ultimatum. He said he set a specified date by which they would have to leave Iran.

Byrd Believes RFC Bill Has Chance to Pass

Washington, April 24 (UP) — Sen. Harry F. Byrd (D-Va) said today his bill to abolish the Reconstruction Finance Corp. "still has a good chance" of Senate approval.

The Senate, after three hours of heated debate and parliamentary maneuvering, voted 39-36 last night to send the measure back to the banking committee.

Earlier, Byrd had won tentative approval of his bill to liquidate the RFC and transfer some of its functions to other government agencies. The 42-37 vote caught administration forces with a damaging number of absentees.

Led by Democratic Leader Ernest W. McFarland (Ariz) and Sens. J. William Fulbright (D-Ark) and John J. Sparkman (D-Ala.), they fought desperately for more than two hours to gain enough time and votes to send the entire question back to committee.

Byrd's temporary victory came on a motion to substitute his bill for Fulbright's measure to tighten up RFC administrative procedures and loan standards.

Solution No Nearer on Plant at Arkadelphia

Washington, April 24 (AP) — An acceptable contract to supply electricity for a proposed aluminum plant in Arkansas appeared no closer to reality today despite approval of a pact by the Federal Power Commission.

Another meeting of the parties involved was scheduled today.

The FPC yesterday approved rates and charges for power to be purchased from government-owned hydroelectric dams, but insisted that its approval be limited to five years. Reynolds Metals Company, which proposed to build the plant near Arkadelphia, promptly rejected the commission's order as "wholly unacceptable."

Courts Again Asked to Ban Steel Seizure

Washington, April 24 (AP) — The steel industry asked the federal courts again today to deny President Truman the right to seize the nation's steel mills.

An attorney for U. S. Steel Corp., largest of the steel companies, accused the government of trying to "foist on management" wage increases for the CIO Steelworkers Union.

The attorney, Theodore Klondik, said the government is not "trying to preserve production of steel."

He asked U. S. District Judge David A. Pike to issue a temporary injunction that would forbid Secretary of Commerce Sawyer from taking any steps to carry out Truman's seizure order.

Convicts Sign Truce But Stay Barricaded

Jackson, Mich., April 24 (UP) — Mutinous convicts at Southern Michigan prison signed a formal surrender today but refused to come out of their besieged cell block with eight guard hostages until a dinner "fit for a king" is served them tomorrow.

To save the lives of the guards, some of them held at knife-point, Williams bowed to 1 demands by since Sunday, Gov. G. Mennen Williams bowed to 12 demands by the 171 felons for "reforms" at the prison.

Although the surrender was signed last night, and the mutiny was delayed until tomorrow by the caprice of their psychopathic ringleader.

Earl Ward, 29-year-old criminal psychopath, added the price of an "abundant" meal of steak, ice cream and appropriate "disturbances" for giving up. His reasons for delaying the dinner and the end of the worst riot in Michigan prison history were not known.

But one of the mutineers, who sneaked out to find a "nice, warm" snug little cell, said Ward was "enjoying the publicity."

Discussing the general subject of his seizure powers, the President said he had to seize the steel industry because the nation faced as great an emergency as it ever has.

Many persons gained the impression from the news conference last week that he thought he had the inherent power to seize press and radio.

The President said today that such an idea had never occurred to him. He also said that frankly he found it difficult to imagine a situation under which seizure of the press and radio would be necessary.

Food Prices Show Little Change

The Associated Press

Food prices showed little change this week. Butter prices slipped after falling to as high as six cents a pound late last week. Dealers said butter might well turn up by about two cents a pound in the next few days because the conditions stimulated consumer buying and strengthened the whole milk market.

Meats generally were unchanged. Chickens were reported plentiful and likely to continue abundant. Potatoes were priced for the next several weeks.

Prices moved irregularly influenced by local market conditions.

Green grocers' prices showed notable changes. Asparagus and artichokes were a little cheaper. Arrivals increased. So were beans, cabbage, celery, eggplant, onions and peppers. Peas may appear on some date of advertised specials this week. Fresh corn, lettuce and beets were bringing higher prices at wholesale. Warmer weather in many sections increased consumption of lettuce and peas.

The Agriculture Department projected orange and grapefruit production for the season.

Industrialist Accused of Tax Evasion

Cleveland, April 24 (AP) — Inner tube manufacturer Pongest Davis of Akron, Ohio, found of a former top U. S. tax official, is accused of eluding the government out of $738,249 in personal income taxes.

A federal grand jury in the big city criminal tax fraud case yesterday charged Davis with evading that amount from 1945 through 1949, Davis said.

"Of course, I deny it," Davis said. The 53-year-old president and chief executive officer of the Robbins Tire & Rubber Co., Inc., of Turin, Ala., which grossed up to a million dollars on war orders, is a friend of oil man Edwin W. Pauley and Charles Olin.

Pauley, high ranking California Democrat and friend of President Truman, was associated with Davis in the Pacific Rubber Co. in 1917. Olin is a former chief counsel of the Bureau of Internal Revenue, who resigned under pressure.

Medical Men Dislike Steel Seizure

Little Rock, April 24 (AP) — Seizure of the U. S. steel industry by President Truman has been condemned by the Arkansas Medical Society.

Last Sunday a resolution asking for a congressional investigation of the President's action was adopted by the Arkansas Academy of General Medical Practice.

Endorsement of a resolution for the flouridation of public water supplies or better dental health also was adopted by the AMS.

Army Loses

1951 disaster, by present reckoning.

There was less water sucking part Kansas City today than last July by more than 100,000 cubic feet a second. No new heavy rain was in sight.

Forecast on the Mississippi, a levee continued to parry the threat of a second flood there.

The little "cotton town" of Sabel, north of it below the river levee, was the critical point as the flood stage reached 19.25 feet. Officers were not too optimistic the levee would stand the strain.

Downstream, about 40 blocks were flooded at Canton, Mo., and school was dismissed for the week as water lapped at the main building.

In the South, the Shreveport and Lake Charles, La., Weather Bureau predicted the Red, Cypress, Sulphur, Little and Sabine Rivers would exceed flood stages within the next few days. Engineers said there was no indication any of the streams could top their levees, barring further rain.

Many little town communities near Kansas City felt the flood's punch. The nearby Parkville, Mo., waterworks was threatened with only inches of safety margin.

Little Walecot, Kan., was cleared of people earlier this week. Riverine, Mo., a hamlet on the flood plain, was under water, too.

But the principal inconvenience to the metropolitan area was closure of the Fairfax bridge north of Kansas City. Flood water undercut an approach and dropped the concrete roadway into the river.

More than 3,000 troops were standing by in the Kansas City area, ready to go in a hurry wherever needed.

Medical Men Dislike Steel Seizure

Little Rock, April 24 (AP) — Seizure of the U. S. steel industry by President Truman has been condemned by the Arkansas Medical Society.

A resolution adopted by the society yesterday at the closing session of its 78th annual meeting, here stated:

"If Mr. (Truman) can without authority of law seize one industry, he can by the same stroke of his pen, seize any industry, business or profession."

Last Sunday a resolution asking for a congressional investigation of the President's action was adopted by the Arkansas Academy of General Medical Practice.

Endorsement of a resolution for the flouridation of public water supplies or better dental health also was adopted by the AMS.

Dr. S. A. Drennon of Stuttgart, named president-elect at the 1951 convention, succeeded Dr. Charles Henry of Little Rock as active president of the Society.

Dr. R. C. Dickinson of Horatio was chosen president-elect to take office at the 1953 convention.

Dr. W. R. Brooks of Fort Smith, secretary and delegate to the American Medical Association, Dr. Drennon, alternate AMA delegate.

Among those elected to the AMS council were Dr. M. O. Blair of Jonesboro, Dr. L. K. Hundley of Pine Bluff and Dr. Harry B. Murry of Texarkana.

Vice-councillors include Dr. John Gray of Jonesboro and Dr. Roy L. Millett of Russellville.

The 1953 convention also will be held at Little Rock.

The city also submitted a proposed rate schedule calling for a $2 minimum monthly bill.

A hearing was set by the PSC for May 7.

Methodists Fear for Civil Liberties

San Francisco, April 24 (AP) The quadrennial General Conference of the Methodist Church began legislative sessions today after hearing a leading bishop assert "reckless demagogues" threaten America's civil liberties.

The warning came from Bishop Paul E. Kern of Nashville, Tenn., in the traditional episcopal address last night. He said "converted and often vicious efforts to regiment thought and curb freedom of speech" were being made in the political, educational and religious fields.

Delegates elected officers yesterday for the committees which will report on some 1,500 petitions to be brought before the conference.

One of the first motions adopted dealt with the most controversial issue of the conference—a three-year survey by industrial engineers aimed at streamlining church structure. The motion by Dr. Harold C. Case, president of Boston University and a member of the survey commission called for discussion of the survey in plenary session tomorrow.

Gov. Earl Warren of California welcomed the delegates last night. He said that while the United Nations has not accomplished too much, "the lofty ideal is intact and most of the nations still envision a peaceful world."

In his address, Bishop Kern declared that "reckless demagogues" are exploiting a feeling of fear that is largely "groundless and neurotic."

"It is becoming more and more

Weed Killer Announced by Esso

A product which will help save hand labor for controlling weeds in cotton fields will be available in commercial quantities for the first time this year. It has been announced by the Esso Standard Oil Company. Known as Esso Weed Killer 38, it has previously been obtainable only in limited quantities but is now ready for all planters.

The new weed killer helps do away with expensive and hard-to-get labor needed for hand hoeing. A complete weed control program for cotton can now be done in three steps. 1. Spray with pre-emergence herbicides before cotton plants appear. This will help delay the growth of weeds. 2. Spray with weed killer after the plant is seven days old and twice more until its stem is about the size of a lead pencil. 3. From then on the plant is strong enough to stand flame cultivation. The cost of such a program is approximately $10.40 per acre as compared to more than $18 per acre for hoeing.

About five years ago the Delta Branch Experiment Station at Stoneville, Mississippi, discovered that certain products supplied to it by the Esso Laboratories do not harm cotton plant stems but are very effective in killing grasses and most annual weeds. Following innumerable tests to discover the formula that gives the greatest weed control with the least harm to cotton plants, Esso Weed Killer 38 was developed. It was introduced on a field trial basis in 1950.

All of the findings concerning the new weed killer are published in a booklet entitled "Esso Weed Killer 38" which may be obtained without charge from the division office of the Esso Standard Oil Company located at Union Avenue at Bellevue, Memphis 1, Tenn. The booklet gives detailed instructions for application of the product and results of experiments that have been conducted. Included are pictures of available spraying equipment, blueprints showing how to construct spraying equipment, and tables giving quantities of application.

impossible," he said, "to shape foreign or domestic policies upon rational grounds. The democratic process cannot operate when disagreement is counted disloyalty." The bishop said, "Demagogues smear the names of honest men by unfounded charges of traitorous connections." Then he asked: "Is character so unprotected that it may be assassinated by unchecked rumors uttered by party fanatics who, under the guise of superpatriotism, hold no truth in reverence if a lie will better serve their unholy purposes?" He said the attack is being carried to colleges, with the aim "nothing less than the extinction of academic freedom." And in the church he added, there are those who criticize anyone "who dares to think and preach independently and creatively upon the issues of the current social and economic order."

Searchers Still Hunting Python

Fl. Smith, April 24 (AP)—Searchers continued today to beat brush for a 22-foot long python that escaped from a carnival near Mulberry Monday night or Tuesday. Owners described the non-venomous reptile as harmless to humans and said it probably would not attack animals. The big snake squeezes its prey to death in powerful coils.

Dr. James A. Oliver, curator of reptiles at the Bronx Zoo at New York, doubted the python to be 22 feet long and said it is dangerous if it is that long. He said the maximum recorded length for an Indian python is 20 feet.

When told of Oliver's statement, Joe Moore, carnival owner remarked, "That's evidently an error. For his information the Brookfield Zoo at Chicago features a python which is 29 1/2 feet long."

Lion Plans Big Plant in New Orleans

El Dorado, April 24 (AP)—Lion Oil Company of El Dorado has announced plans to build a 21 million dollar chemical plant near New Orleans.

President T. H. Martin said the plant will have a daily capacity of 200 tons of anhydrous ammonia, most of which will be converted into ammonium nitrate.

The plant will be located at Lakeview, La., about 14 miles north of New Orleans on the Mississippi river.

The United States paid all its public debt in 1835, but a new national debt was soon created by war and depression.

has played one game.

Trouble Hits WU Strike in Fort Smith

By The Associated Press

Fort Smith, April 24 (AP) — Striking telegraphers can no longer picket the Western Union office here as a result of a violent altercation on the picket line.

Chancellor C. M. Wofford of Ft.
Smith yesterday issued an injunction against picketing the office.
His action, sought by the company, followed a fight between a striker and an employee of the company.
Both men were arrested.

Joe R. Vestal, manager of the office here, said the injunction was the first such order issued against the striking AFL Commercial tel-egraphers since the strike began April 3. The Union had no comment.

Chancellor Wofford specifically enjoined the strikers from: (1) picketing the Western Union office;
(2) exhibiting placards calling non-striking employees "scabs"; (3) threatening, assaulting or in any manner obstructing the plaintiff (Western Union) or its employees; and (4) making telephone calls to harass the company.

Local 4, of the CIO and six of its members were named defendants in the action.

One of the defendants was H. H.
Gundel, the striker allegedly involved in yesterday's disturbance.
Gundel was charged with assault and battery.

A non-striking employee, Jerry Hightail, was charged with assault with a deadly weapon. He allegedly was carrying a wrench.

Both men were released on bond pending a court hearing.

Many of the trails in Central Arkansas are believed to have been developed by Arab slave traders.

Ike's Views on Control Is More Control

Washington, April 23 (AP)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower was quoted today as saying the government's answer "to excessive control is more control" and that there has been general "abuse of the taxing power."

Sen. Carlson of Kansas, who is supporting Eisenhower for the Republican presidential nomination, said the general recently made the statements in a letter to a friend. The senator did not name the friend in a speech prepared for delivery at a Rotary Club meeting here.

Carlson said the statements he quoted are examples showing where Eisenhower stands on domestic issues. He added that the general has made his views known "clearly on a great number of our fundamental issues," and that opponents who say he hasn't are making "such false charges for only one reason: They see the nomination slipping away from them and they are desperate."

Carlson said Eisenhower wrote: "Extravagance in public spending brings ever-increasing taxes—taxes which if long continued will strangle incentive, the very quality that built the nation. Meanwhile, the government debt rises. The value of our money becomes the 'football of politics'—subjected to the political whim of the moment."

"The government penetrates more and more into our daily living; its answer to excessive control is more control. In this whole process, the abuse of the taxing power has been one of the chief weapons the government has used."

Meanwhile, Sen. Nixon of California urged Eisenhower to "repudiate unequivocally" President Truman's seizure of the steel industry. "As a candidate for the Republican nomination he should do so just as soon as he goes on inactive status June 1," Nixon told a reporter.

Nixon, who is backing Gov. Earl Warren of California for the nomination, said all aspirants for the presidency should make their position known on the controversial seizure issue, and that most of them have.

Corn Acreage Needed to Meet Goals

The goal for corn plantings in 1952 calls for 166 acres for every 100 acres planted in 1951. According to J. L. Wright, chairman of the Arkansas Agriculture Mobilization Committee, this represents such a small acreage increase per farm that there should be little difficulty for farmers in Arkansas to meet the goal.

The intentions to plant report just issued by the U. S. Department of Agriculture indicates that Arkansas farmers in their pre-planting season plans will seed 1,031,000 acres to corn. The goal for the State is 1,150,000 acres. This means that Arkansas farmers will have to increase their March 1 estimated by 12 percent if the State is to be met.

According to Chairman Wright, if our farmers do not plant the desired acreage, there is real danger of a very tight food situation in from 12 to 18 months. Unless yields are far above average it may mean that some livestock will have to be liquidated which would result in a very serious situation for the United States and for nations associated with the U. S. in defense efforts.

The chairman has some suggestions for the individual farmer who is up against the question of where the extra acres are to come from. In many areas it may be well to plant enough less oats to make up the needed acreage. Or it may be some other crop that produces fewer feed units per acre. It may come out of poor producing pasture land that is now idle. Here in Hempstead County many farmers may find it best to plant fewer acres of Soybeans to get the desired acreage of corn.

Imported Labor to Be Paid Local Rate

Washington, April 23 (AP)—Secretary of Labor Tobin notified Sen. Fulbright (D-Ark) today imported Mexican farm workers are to be paid at the wage rate prevailing where they work.

This is provided, he said, under the 1951 agricultural labor agreement with Mexico. A new agreement is now being negotiated for this year.

Fulbright had forwarded to Tobin in complaints of Arkansas farmers that last year the Mexican government insisted on 50 cents an hour for Mexican farm workers. This was above the prevailing rate in some cases.

"The responsibility for ascertaining the prevailing wage rate is in fact that of the Department of Labor," Tobin wrote Fulbright.

But he said the department had had trouble fixing rates last year "because of the rapid fluctuations in wage rates in the various agricultural activities."

TO RUN FOR SHERIFF

Little Rock, April 23 (AP)—Odell Maxey, former deputy under Pulaski County Sheriff Tom Gulley, has filed to oppose Gulley in the Democratic primary this summer.

Maxey is getting needed doctors. A need of 50 additional physicians and at least 500 nurses in rural Arkansas areas was estimated yesterday by Dr. J. Arnold Henry of Russellville, chairman of the Rural Health Committee.

The society's three day convention ends today.

Union Stymied on Capitol Job

Washington, April 23 (AP)—Non-union workers start painting the Capitol dome today and the AFL-CIO Painters Council can't quite figure out what to do about it.

Painters are forbidden on Capitol Hill and since a strike of federal employees is illegal, the union is barred from calling its men off to other government jobs here in protest.

The council had under consideration one novel suggestion: a plane could be hired to fly over the city, trading a protest sign so "confrontation" could be seen.

The union also considered going ahead with picketing on a strike of painters on other government projects here to test the constitutionality of the non-strike ban. David Lynn, Capitol architect, said the dome-painting job was awarded to L. B. Brown & Co. of Alexandria and Roanoke, Va., because it submitted the low bid of $38,000. The law requires that the low bidder get the job, regardless of whether he uses union or non-union labor.

Robert C. Lowry, secretary-treasurer of the union, said the council's painters had kept the dome shining for the past 60 years and has been especially trained for the hazardous job nearly 300 feet above the ground.

The tuning fork was invented in 1711.

Wood Ibis Migrate Over Arkansas

Little Rock, April 23 (AP)—Sky seagulls were mystified yesterday at actions of a large flock of high flying birds over Little Rock.

Raymond Gray, Little Rock zoo director, said they were wood ibis, also known as wood storks, members of the stork family.

Gray said the birds, which stand 3 1/2 to 4 feet tall, fly in huge flocks at high altitudes.

"They usually come over Arkansas about this time, heading north after wintering in Florida and South America," Gray said.

When snakes lose teeth they are replaced.

Another Seeks Job of Committeeman

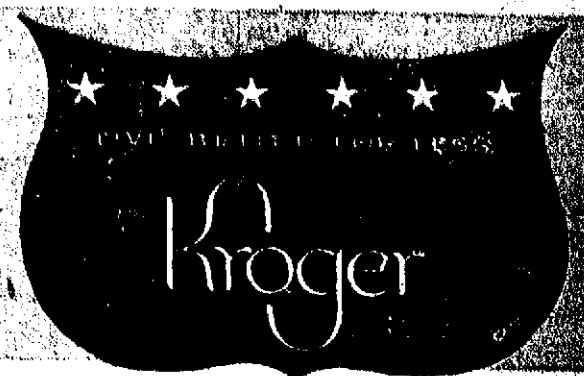

Little Rock, April 24 (AP)—Dixieville businessman, but not come the third candidate for National Democratic Committeeman from Arkansas, the post being vacated by Dr. R. B. Robins of Camden.

Noble Gill, one-time chairman of the State Board of Education, announced for the post yesterday. Noble Gill of Harrison, Paul Chambers of Helena, Ark., have announced.

Mrs. Jack Carney of Camden says she will seek re-election to National Democratic Committee woman.

Harriman Is Running for Nomination

Washington, April 23 (AP) — Averell Harriman, foreign aid administrator and "a great liberal" in the eyes of President Truman, is the fourth named candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination.

The wealthy 60-year-old New Yorker launched his nation-wide campaign with a promise to fight for the administration's domestic and foreign policies. "I am proud to be a part of our citizens and faithful follower of our leadership," he emphasized, at a news conference yesterday, that he is "an active candidate," not just a "façade son" holding New York's 94th delegation until leaders decide to back at the national convention.

Harriman, now Mutual Security director, is a disciple of the late President Roosevelt's "New Deal" program. His service with the administration, chiefly in foreign affairs, dates to 1933. Roosevelt's 10th year as president.

Harriman expressed gratitude for public support of 45 of 52 Democratic county chairmen in New York, practically assuring him a state convention delegation.

He called "gratitude" the formation of a national committee for president, headed by New York's Senator Charles McNamara and Representative Frank J. Roosevelt Jr.

Medics Selecting Health Appointees

Little Rock, April 24 (AP) — The Arkansas Medical Society yesterday approved three physicians as possible appointees to the State Board of Health from the Fifth Congressional District.

They are Dr. Alan Cazor, Little Rock, Dr. Charles Archer Jr., Conway, and Dr. J. Arnold Henry, Russellville.

Gov. McMath is expected to name one of the three to the board.

Recession Is Best Guess Many Say

By SAM DAWSON

New York, April 24 (AP) — A leading industrialist has come right out and said it:

"A recession is now the best guess."

William B. Given, Jr., chairman of American Brake Shoe, tells stockholders at the annual meeting that their company's management expects a business recession and is setting ready for it.

Given says it's only a guess but it's better to be safe than sorry. His company makes castings and metal products for railroads, auto and farm machinery and other industries.

Business men are far from unanimously behind Given in his guess. And several are telling shareholders that better days are ahead this fall.

But now that it is out in the open, perhaps others will also admit they are trying to put their firms' houses in order against the slump.

A great many companies have been doing just what American Brake Shoe is: cutting inventories, trimming costs, holding down on production.

This caution has been widespread in industry—and such caution has been regarded by many as one of the best forms of insurance against a major slump. It is when caution is forgotten in a wild boom, that a little setback can snowball into a major depression. There's no such wild boom now as preceded the 1929 crash.

But Given is among the first to put a time-table on his prediction of a recession now on the way. Merchants, who have been showing caution for some time now, find a friend today. Retailers have been buying for only a short time ahead as they try to hold inventories down. Manufacturers naturally don't like this and have been calling it "shortsighted." But William Durston, manager of the merchandising division of the National Retail Dry Goods Association, tells the Knitted Fabrics Institute meeting here that the merchant's first responsibility is to the consumer, and the retailer should not be asked to act as a warehouse for large stocks of goods just in case mills humming.

If general conditions remain reasonably good, American Smelting & Refining should have a good year, chairman Roger W. Straus tells shareholders.

Impeachment Move Could Backfire

By JAMES MARLOW

Washington, April 24 (AP) — When President Truman threw fuel on the political fire by seizing the steel industry, the heat was so intense you could have predicted there'd be cries for his impeachment.

Sen. Taft suggested it pretty promptly. But impeachment must start in the House, not in the Senate. So this week two House Republicans—Hale of Maine and Bender of Ohio—proposed it.

That's as far as the suggestion is expected to get. Besides, it's the kind of move which in an election year might backfire on the Republicans by creating sympathy for the President.

With this in mind, some Republicans said late yesterday: "We don't want to make a martyr of the President."

Anyway, impeachment is easier said than done. The only time Congress tried it on a President Andrew Johnson, in 1868—the trial lasted three months. Johnson escaped by one vote and lived out the rest of his term peacefully.

The Constitution says the President, vice president, and all civil officers of the United States shall be removed from office on impeachment or conviction of treason, bribery, or other high crimes and misdemeanors.

This is the way it goes: The proposal is made in the House. If the House approves—by a simple majority vote—the Senate is notified. Then the House appoints a committee of managers, prosecutors to present the case.

The Senate sits as a jury to hear the evidence. When a President is on trial—because the vice president might have an interest in the outcome—the chief justice of the U. S. presides.

But since such a trial drags on, it's hard to keep the senators glued to their chairs. They get up, wander around, duck in and out, thus missing a lot of the testimony.

Having missed testimony, some of them are reluctant to vote when it comes time for the Senate to decide guilty or not guilty. And the President is acquitted unless two-thirds of the senators vote against him.

Altogether, impeachment proceedings have been started in Congress against 12 people. Besides Johnson, they were a senator, a secretary of war, and nine judges. Most were acquitted.

Little Rock, April 24 (AP) — Arkansas cannot collect gross receipts tax for equipment sold to contractors for use in building government defense installations.

This decision was handed down yesterday by Pulaski Chancellor Guy E. Williams following a hearing on a suit brought by Kern-Limerick, Inc., a Little Rock equipment dealer. Kern-Limerick seeks refund of $342. Gross receipts tax which it paid under protest in 1950. The attorney general's office said it would appeal Judge Williams' decision.

The tax was assessed on the sale of two tractors to contractors at the Naval Ordnance Depot at Shumaker, Ark., by Kern-Limerick.

Kern-Limerick contended that contractors were purchasing agents for the government and that the state was not entitled to collect the tax. But former Revenue Commissioner Dean R. Morley ruled last Sept. 24 that the transaction was subject to the tax.

Falling Prices Mind of 1949 Slump

AM DAWSON

York, April 23 (AP)—Business and falling prices just now many persons of the spring of 1949.

Earlier inventory recession much of the same overtone as the long-awaited post depression was at hand.

The 1949 recession had that and a new boom started, given a big boost by Korea. Thrills ran into the same glum memories that fretted the business in 1949.

Paralleled between the spring of 1949 and today is pointed up by a number of items in the day's retailers — always prone to optimistic talk — say the post-war sales are disappointing. They found April, 1949, a disappointment. Buyers are staying home, the merchants in several ways, despite big promotional plans.

New York, department store last week were five per cent those of a year ago, and last four weeks sales have fallen by one per cent. The customer reluctance, long and still hasn't been sighted.

Business earnings are falling this just as they slumped in higher taxes now gets much blame. But not all — earnings are down this spring many firms, who face higher rising costs, customer sales reduce or price controls on their goods.

Employment in non-farm work also to gain in March this year, as it did in March 1949. They only two months of March 1949, in which employment did not rise over the February total. The Bureau of Labor statistics report that non-farm producers hired more men in March than in February, but in retail and consumer goods in retail employment was cut back.

Other even more striking parallel between the two springs may be found in price softening in 1949, most non-ferrous metals have been in good demand since World War II, and prices have been firm — at times soaring and at present bumping at low-price ceilings.

In the spring of 1949, with food prices already slumped, a sudden slump found that a shortage had turned into a glut. Users of metals stopped and prices slumped fast. Metals cried that with the belt metals in a slump "the decision is here." But in the sum that tide turned.

In the textile industry has its "private depression," and food prices are well below their former level. Will metal prices ease?

First to show signs of it is some foreign lead is being in American markets at prices below the ceiling price of the trade reports.

When metal prices ease? The annual meeting of the American Zinc Institute in St. Louis there will be a zinc price year to meet metal demands. Charles R. Ince, president of the St. Joseph Zinc Co., a leading zinc producer, lets a surplus of 129,000 tons be end of the year.

DOROTHY DIX

Back-Street Love

Dear Miss Dix: For three years I have been desperately in love with a married man who has two children. He is twenty years older than I. The feeling is no one-sided, nor is it a schoolgirl fancy. I've passed my thirtieth birthday. I'm too mature for that.

Running around with someone else's husband is no joke. I do not approve and therefore I've hesitated to be seen with him, although I'm not happy with anyone else. I do not believe in divorce, neither does he, and we don't want to hurt his wife. She is a fine woman and deserves something better than to be tossed aside. I've gone out of my way to procure work elsewhere, but have had to come back here to finish the job.

Serious talks to each other help for a few minutes, but a handshake or kiss puts a stop to it all and love wins again. I want him for my husband, he wants me for his wife. Why can't I have him without hurting his wife?

The only answer for me seems to be to marry a chap who has proposed to me. I've told him of the situation, but he wants me to marry him anyway. He claims that understanding will help us overcome the problem. I certainly don't love him, as my heart belongs entirely to the man I can't have, but I do admire him. Do you think it would work?

Answer: Your letter, which I have somewhat curtailed, gives a very fair and honest picture of your problem. Aside from the ethics and morals involved, which I will not discuss, as preaching is rather out of my orbit, the situation is one that can result in nothing but tragedy for you.

You're To Be Pitied
As you view the affair now, from a vantage point completely enveloped in rose-colored clouds, the disaster is very well hidden. You probably regard "the wife" as the party of the triangle most deserving of pity; actually, it is you! She has the security of her position and, while her husband may not love her, he certainly holds her in great respect and admiration, judging from what you say.

She has her children! She can afford to wait until the affair blows over. The man has nothing to lose either way. He enjoys the ardor of your love, then goes home to the affectionate atmosphere of his own home. You alone are the loser, with no security in the future at all.

Your doubts are lulled by, as you say, a handshake or a kiss. Doesn't that seem an inadequate return for the payment of your whole heart and soul? You will emerge from the love affair with a broken heart, possibly a damaged reputation, a cynicism that will darken your whole future — while husband and wife resume the normal course of their lives as if nothing had happened. Is that fair to you? No! But it is the almost inevitable procedure.

There are three solutions to the problem. Either you break with your sweetheart, which I am sure you consider impossible at the moment; you frankly tell his wife of the situation and see if she will agree to a divorce, and your subsequent marriage; or — continue as you are! Frankly, I believe you will probably choose number three, the line of least resistance, and the path that will bring you to certain disaster.

Love, is indeed, a wonderful emotion, but there is something to be said for self-respect, too. As for your second suitor — don't give him any further encouragement until you have completely cleared up present difficulties. If you want concrete advice for what it's worth, I'll tell you to end your affair at once, let the other man's devotion help to bind up the wounds, and in less time than you think, you'll probably be ready to love him as he deserves. Put yourself in a position where you can look the world in the face and owe apologies to no one. You're a fine, intelligent person, worthy of something a great deal more than a furtive love affair, however noble it may seem at the moment.

Dear Miss Dix: I've been going steady with my boy friend for five years. I've tried to change him, but have had no success. He drinks quite a bit and is very nasty when he does; when he isn't drinking he is fine. He wants to get married on a shoestring, spending now whatever he makes. He could save on his salary, but believes in a good time while he can have it. Do you think he'll ever change?

Answer: Mary, you're headed straight for the saddest matrimonial disaster you could manufacture. Better wake up. Your letter outlined some of the worst faults a husband could have — and not one

Visiting Around Arkansas BY JOE MARSH

"Arkansas Cotton Seed and Soya Beans Turn out Margarine for Nation!"

When I "spread my bread" now, I know I'm using Arkansas products—one hundred per cent! Because I've been up in Mississippi County and seen the plants where they're making high class margarine out of Mississippi County-grown cottonseed oil and soybean oil.

I have a hunch that the margarine industry, which got its Arkansas start in Mississippi County, will spread to other rich delta counties and help expand the market for cottonseed and soybeans. This growing industry is, in a way, like the Brewing Industry of America. American brewers use the finest grains, malts and other products to produce fine beer and ale. These malt beverages are sold in Arkansas under legal control in establishments which maintain conditions of cleanliness and wholesomeness—doing their part in the American Brewing Industry's great Self-Regulation Program.

Farmers Urged to Plant More Feed Grains

Unless farmers plant more feed grains than they did last year the country may face a serious shortage of livestock feed at a time when more production is badly needed.

Recent reports indicate that the average that farmers intend to plant in feed grain is about nine million acres of the 1952 crop. All agricultural agencies are cooperating in a drive to help farmers reach the goal.

Farm operators in Hempstead county who use supervised credit to develop efficient family-type farms are being asked to review their plans for the coming year and make every effort to plant more than they had planned and to carry out recommended crop production practices. The services of the local Farmers Home Administration office are available to any borrower who wants help in overcoming a production problem.

Crop production practices recommended in Hempstead County include the use of improved seed varieties, more efficient application of fertilizer, better control of weeds, insects and disease. Proper storage of feed and grain on farms, better use of machinery, and better pasture management practices are being followed. Soil building, maintenance of farm buildings, proper feeding, balanced rations, and improved water-use practices are other ways that are being used to increase feed production.

Production of more feed for livestock is one of the Nation's most important needs. Department officials say. Compared with last year's production we need 15 per cent more corn on 8 per cent acreage, 20 per cent more grain sorghum on 15 per cent more acreage, and 14 per cent more barley on 15 per cent more land.

More feed grains and forage crops for the near-record number of livestock now on farms is needed to boost the output of milk and meat. Records show that for two successive years our food reserves have dwindled.

All of the farm families using supervised credit whether their loans are for operating needs or for purchase or development of their farms are re-arranging their farm enterprises in such a way that their farms and their labor will be more productive than they have been before. Special attention is being given to greater production of the feed crops and other farm production which is needed to avert shortages. There are 11 borrowers in Hempstead County.

farming six thousand four hundred sixty-six acres. Several conditions exist today that make more farm production necessary. Domestic requirements are increasing. Each day an additional 7,000 people — the equivalent of a good sized town — are added to our American population. We have 7,000 more mouths to feed today than we had yesterday — to say nothing of more bodies to clothe. Tomorrow, there'll be another 7,000. In addition, our per capita food consumption is 13 per cent higher than the prewar average.

Another fact to be considered is that our men in uniform eat more than civilians. In addition, the food needs of other nations that are directly in the path of communistic aggression must be met in part by the United States.

High production also helps in the fight against inflation. The pressure on wages and prices is eased only when the supply of food and fiber is sufficient to meet the demand.

The Agricultural Mobilization Committee for Hempstead County recommends that farmers re-examine their plans for this year's crops and pay special attention to increasing the planted acreage in corn and grain sorghum. Members of this committee are: Cecil Guthrie, production marketing administrator, Herbert Arnold, soil conservation service, R. E. Jackson, vocational high school, Oliver Adams, extension service, Paul Morehead, production credit association, and W. M. Sparks, Farmers Home administration.

Eisenhower Still Abed With Cold

Paris, April 23 (AP)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower still was abed today with a cold and throat infection and aides said it was "impossible to ask his comment on results of the New York and Pennsylvania presidential primary elections."

Maj. Gen. Howard M. Snyder, surgeon general at Eisenhower's headquarters near here, said the general's condition is improving and "we hope to get him back to his desk tomorrow."

Trouble Brews in S. Africa Politics

Capetown, South Africa, April 23 (AP)—A nation-wide campaign by the United party against Prime Minister Daniel Malan's bill to keep South Africa's courts from blocking his white supremacy program began last night with the violent breakup of one protest meeting.

Besides the protest campaign, opposition leader J. G. N. Strauss reportedly plans a technical test in Parliament to determine whether the bill was legally introduced and companion court action against the legislation.

First violence in the latter dispute came at Alberton in Transvaal province.

The United party's meeting was broken up in disorder by Nationalist followers of Malan. They threw rocks and eggs, started fights in the meeting hall, set fire to United party banners, and tried to turn over a car. No casualties were reported, however.

Protest meetings in other parts of South Africa were heckled but were not assaulted.

The series of meetings began only a few hours after Malan's bill was laid before Parliament. It would hamstring the Supreme court by setting up a high parliamentary court to rule on constitutional issues. Malan's party holds a majority in Parliament which probably would be reflected in the makeup of the new tribunal.

The bill was Malan's answer to the Appeal court, the nation's highest, which last month declared unconstitutional a law to restrict the voting rights of 50,000 coloreds (persons of mixed blood) in Cape Province.

Some Dentists to Be Called by Army

Little Rock, April 23 (AP)—Arkansas dentists in the Priority 111 classification may be called into military service this summer.

Maj. Carl D. Wells of the Selective Service said yesterday that any calls for dentists in Arkansas would be filled from Priority 111.

There are 73 dentists in the priority, made up of all dentists under 50 years old except those veterans of World War Two who received their dental training prior to their previous service.

Wells said, however, that an early call of Priority 111 dentists was unlikely.

Talks Resume on Power for State Plant

Washington, April 23 (AP)—Federal Power Commission members renewed discussions today of a power contract for a proposed new 35 million dollar aluminum plant in Arkansas.

Commission approval is needed before the contract can become effective and construction of the plant near Arkadelphia started. Commission members advised members of the Arkansas congressional delegation they would discuss the matter at a closed conference sometime during the day. The conference will not be open to the press or public.

Background of the matter is this: Reynolds Metals Company, given an aluminum production allocation, announced last fall it would put the plant in Arkansas.

After lengthy negotiations with the Arkansas Power and Light Company and the Southwest Power Administration, Reynolds signed a 30-year contract under which it would purchase power for the new plant.

The SPA was a party to the contract since it would provide part of the hydroelectric power involved.

This hydro power is to come from the big Bull Shoals Dam, now being completed.

Secretary of the Interior Charles A. Smith approved the contract but Power Commission staff experts raised objections on how costs of government-built multiple power dams, such as Bull Shoals, should be allocated and amortized.

Late last week Reynolds and AP & L made some revisions to the contract and submitted the new version to the Power Commission. This contract now is being studied.

Up to the 1952 elections, the Democrats and Republicans have been opposed in 24 U. S. general elections of which the Democrats won 10 and the Republicans 14.
